DECISION READ

Paid Social created the scale of the season. Organic Search added 20,509 sessions with a 49.40% engagement rate and a 28-second average, showing that strong city and theme pages are durable audience assets.

SEASONAL LANDING-PAGE LEADERS

Eight highest-volume pages in the supplied prior-season landing-page table. The page mix confirms demand across theme hubs and local event destinations.

LANDING PAGE	SESSIONS	AVG ENGAGE
UGLY SWEATER HUB	10,588	18s
ATLANTA BELTLINE HALLOWEEN · OCT 31	10,505	7s
ATLANTA BELTLINE UGLY SWEATER	10,433	9s

MACON BOOS & BOOZE	7,215	7s
CINCINNATI UGLY SWEATER	6,957	5s

HALLOWEEN NOW

317 sessions

253 active users · 26-second average engagement · Atlanta Beltline leads the current set with 65 sessions.

UGLY SWEATER NOW

41 sessions

38 active users · 10-second average engagement. December intent remains early in the current window.

RUNWAY

Halloween demand is already surfacing while December interest remains early. August is the right window to strengthen the hubs and local destination pages before seasonal attention accelerates.

DECISION READ

The site has a broad discovery footprint with meaningful non-branded reach. The strongest growth path is to preserve informational visibility while making theme hubs and local event pages clearer, more current, and easier to navigate.

HALLOWEEN SEARCH ADVANTAGE

Semrush reports 273 ranking positions containing Halloween. Multiple city pages already hold first-page visibility.

273

HALLOWEEN
RANKING
POSITIONS

The generic Halloween hub ranks for high-volume theme terms, while Cleveland, Atlanta, Lakewood, Cincinnati, and Portland have city-level visibility to protect and strengthen.

QUERY	POS.	U.S. VOLUME	RANKING DESTINATION
HALLOWEEN BAR CRAWL	9	2,900	Halloween hub
BAR CRAWL HALLOWEEN	4	1,300	Homepage / hub variants
HALLOWEEN PUB CRAWL	6	720	Halloween hub

UGLY SWEATER ARCHITECTURE GAP

The main domain shows only 15 Ugly Sweater ranking positions, and the generic query is being captured by an internal Elementor slug instead of the intended hub.

MAIN-DOMAIN SEARCH GAP

15 positions

The generic query has demand, but ranking authority is fragmented across an internal slug, legacy events, and the intended public hub.

DECISION READ

Keep seasonal authority centered on the stronger main domain, preserve any ranking equity, move the generic intent to the approved public hub, and establish the current December city pages as the local destination set.

WHAT ANDY SHOULD APPROVE NOW

The evidence supports a focused seasonal program built around proven hubs, ranking city pages, and a clear August runway.

NOW

PROTECT THE HALLOWEEN RANK LEADERS

PRESERVE CURRENT VISIBILITY

Keep the strongest ranking URLs stable, strengthen the Halloween hub, and reinforce internal links to the proven city pages.

AUGUST

FINISH THE OCTOBER PAGE SLATE

BUILD BEFORE PEAK DEMAND

Apply the strongest local-page pattern to Atlanta, Cleveland, Cincinnati, Columbia, Greenville, Portland, St. Pete, Macon, Roswell, and Sarasota.

SEPTEMBER LET THE ORGANIC PAGES MATURE

STRENGTHEN DISCOVERY

Monitor index coverage, improve thin local sections, refresh high-impression snippets, and keep the strongest city pages connected to the hubs.

NOVEMBER REPAIR THE UGLY SWEATER HUB

PREPARE THE SECOND SPRINT

Resolve the Elementor slug conflict, consolidate generic intent around the approved hub, and give the current December city pages a clear hierarchy.

ONGOING USE ORGANIC SEARCH AS THE QUALITY BENCHMARK

BALANCE SCALE AND QUALITY

Paid Social can create broad seasonal reach. Organic Search is the stronger engagement signal and the durable foundation for city and theme demand.

THE REACH IS REAL. THE NEXT MOVE IS FOCUS.
