

SECTION FOUR · DRAFT FOR THE FRIDAY CONVERSATION

Flagships + roadmap

One of each behind every lane

Momentum has served over 1,000 Philadelphia-region small businesses since 2015 (needmomentum.com/about-us/). The division sells what is already proven to work inside Momentum, packaged in the four lanes Mac has already put on the site.

Every price, hour budget and capacity figure on this slide is a proposal until recorded as agreed.

THE THESIS

Every offer ships with its agent.

- Hours per client is an acceptance metric of the offer itself, measured monthly
- A division whose product is one person's hours is a consultancy with a chatbot
- The lockup is the existing mark plus AI. No new logo (decision D19)

Has outbound started? Yes. Here is what it did.

241

Cold emails sent

Two waves, Sept 2–3, from Dillon's Gmail

0

Verified human replies

Two bounces, two auto-replies. No bounce is not proof of delivery.

In the same fortnight, two hand-built AI search audits sent to GT Clinic and Tuxedo Den both reached the quote stage.

WHAT IT MEANS

The audit is the opener that works.

- The Snapshot makes the audit repeatable and lets Jesse run it
- Reporting is defined before the next send: sends, replies, quotes, signed, collected, as five counts
- No further send is authorised by the September plan (decision D10)

Reconciled from Gmail SENT on September 3, 2026. Audit outcomes from the pre-sale audit package status, verified September 3.

AI Search Snapshot

A generated, branded audit from one URL: can AI systems read the site, and does it say what the business is.

01	02	03	04	05
One URL	Readiness checks	Twenty questions	Branded report	Next step
The prospect's homepage. Nothing else is needed to start.	Can AI crawlers read it, is the business typed correctly, sitemap, canonical, FAQ, phone and address.	Human-run on two named engines, recorded with date and citations. Never scraped.	Three to five pages in the Momentum system. Fifteen minutes to produce.	Routes to the free audit page. Deeper diagnosis is paid.

WHY THIS AND NOT COLD EMAIL

Mac proposed exactly this on August 12. The two hand-built 16-page audits sent August 23 both reached the quote stage. The 241 cold emails sent September 2 to 3 got zero verified human replies. The audit is the opener that works; the Snapshot makes it repeatable and lets Jesse run it.

NEVER

Guaranteed citations, guaranteed rankings, invented scores, scraped engine output.

Mac proposed this on August 12. Generator v1 exists and ran on needmomentum.com on September 5: its top finding is that the agency's own robots.txt names no AI crawler.

What we sell, lane by lane

01 AEO / GEO

Get found by AI. AI Search Readiness sprint: Within 90 days the systems that write AI answers can read the site, know what the business is, and are measured monthly on the questions its buyers ask.

02 AI Design

Prototype in a week. Spec build: Five working days after kickoff the client is looking at a working prototype of the thing they were describing: a site, a dashboard, or a film, built from real assets and real facts.

03 AI Marketing

Content that moves. Motion content system: Every month the client gets a short brand film and a set of stills, in their identity, with a rights ledger, ready for every social placement, and their logo has never been touched by a model.

04 AI Automation

The attribution spine. Lead Operations agent: A named employee can account for every accepted lead, from one agreed intake source through one destination, including duplicates and exceptions, and the agent drafts the first reply.

Every price, hour budget and capacity figure on this slide is a proposal until recorded as agreed.

Four flagships, four roadmap offers

Lane	Launch flagship	Setup	Monthly	Hours target	Roadmap · next
01 AEO / GEO	AI Search Readiness sprint	$1,500	$750	Under 4 hours/month per client by month three, measured	AI Visibility monitoring · $500/month
02 AI Design	Spec build	$3,500	fixed	Under 24 hours per build, measured	Closed-loop site optimization · $1,000/month
03 AI Marketing	Motion content system	$1,500	$1,250	Under 6 hours/month per client, measured	ChatGPT Ads management · $500/month
04 AI Automation	Lead Operations agent	$3,500	$1,500	Under 6 hours/month per client, measured	Attribution Spine · $3,500 build + $1,000/month

Anchors: Fagan Painting bought AEO/GEO at $500/month for 90 days; GT Clinic was quoted $900/month after an audit; Deborah Mara signed a $500/month ChatGPT Ads lane; the Puttery build was proposed at $2,500 to $3,500; published floor $1,000/month, custom $3,000/month, design package $3,000.

Every price, hour budget and capacity figure on this slide is a proposal until recorded as agreed. Decisions D04, D05, D06 and D20.

What the cohort contributes

Scenario	Monthly revenue	Hours	Contribution
one client on each recurring flagship	$3,500	16	$1,125
same, double hours	$3,500	32	-$75
two clients on each recurring flagship	$7,000	32	$2,750
one of each, labor $125/hr	$3,500	16	$325
Plus one Spec build in the month	+$3,500 once	+24	+$1,250 once

$75 loaded labour/hour, 10% sales allowance, $500 fixed monthly allowance, per-offer tool allowances of $75 (AEO), $100 (Motion), $150 (Lead Ops), full collection. Same method as the September 4 pack's economics.py. These are calculations under assumptions, not actual revenue and not net profit. Booked, invoiced and collected stay separate totals. Missing collections stay unknown, not assumed paid. Double hours takes the recurring cohort below zero, which is why hours per client is an acceptance metric of every offer.

Calculations under assumptions. Not revenue, not profit. Booked, invoiced and collected stay separate.
