What Phase One taught us, and what Phase Two unlocks

Phase One showed that NKCDC can generate attention and inquiries. It also exposed the limits of treating one time-bound campaign as the whole growth plan.

01 A narrow window

Tax prep had a defined audience, funding timeline, and season.

02 Quality over volume

Fit, routing, and follow-up mattered more than raw lead counts.

03 A larger portfolio

NKCDC's Economic Development work creates many more reasons for people and partners to engage.

THE BIG IDEA

Phase Two turns NKCDC's full set of programs and community relationships into a coordinated growth system that attracts the right people, converts interest into participation, and builds lasting visibility.

The Phase Two growth model

Four connected capabilities turn strong community work into repeatable participation and measurable outcomes.

01

Programs and offers

Give people a clear reason to engage.

Workshops, cohorts, clinics, incubators, and existing service lines

02

Demand generation

Put the right opportunities in front of the right audiences.

Ad Grants, social, outreach, partners, email, SMS, and webinars

03

Conversion and nurture

Turn awareness into participation.

Landing pages, scheduling, lead routing, reminders, and referral tracking

04

Authority and discoverability

Build compounding trust and reach.

Video, repurposed workshops, SEO, AEO, bilingual resources, and expert positioning

THE 90-DAY DISCIPLINE

Choose two or three priorities.

Pair each priority with only the channels, conversion path, and measurement needed to learn quickly.

One growth system, multiple NKCDC priorities

Every priority follows the same accountable path. The offer changes; the operating system stays consistent.

PROVEN USE CASE

Free business tax preparation

A defined program and seasonal audience connect to promotion, a clear inquiry or booking path, consistent follow-up, and outcome reporting.

ILLUSTRATIVE PRIORITY

Vendor readiness

The same system can support a cohort or workshop, partner outreach, registration, reminders, attendance, and next-step tracking.

ILLUSTRATIVE PRIORITY

Funding readiness

A program offer becomes a campaign with a defined audience, selected channels, a conversion path, nurture, and measurable progress.

Scale the system, not the clutter.

Priorities can change quarter to quarter without rebuilding the entire growth approach.

How each priority becomes a campaign

A disciplined six-step loop keeps the offer, outreach, response experience, and evidence connected.

01

Define

Clarify the offer, intended audience, owner, and desired next step.

02

Build

Create the landing, registration, booking, or referral path.

03

Activate

Launch through only the selected outreach channels.

04

Route + nurture

Assign every response, follow up, and send useful reminders.

05

Repurpose

Turn workshops and expert answers into reusable content.

06

Measure

Track participation, quality, downstream outcomes, and learning.

SUPPORTING ASSETS

FAQs + evergreen pages

ONE LOOP, REPEATED

Each campaign leaves behind better audience knowledge, stronger content, clearer follow-up, and evidence for the next priority.

How we will know Phase Two is working

Program and business outcomes lead the scorecard. Channel activity helps explain why those outcomes moved.

PRIMARY Outcomes that matter

Qualified participants or clients

By program or service line

Workshop registrations and attendance

Interest compared with actual participation

Partner and referral activity

New conversations and attributable referrals

Consultations or appointment bookings

Qualified next steps, not clicks alone

Enrollment, application, or service completion

Where NKCDC can share downstream outcomes

SUPPORTING Growth indicators

Qualified inquiries + response rates

Email + SMS list engagement

Landing-page conversion rates

Outreach replies + partner conversations

Search visibility + AI citations

Video views + social engagement

THE REPORTING RULE

Use leading indicators to diagnose the campaign. Use participation and downstream outcomes to decide what to continue, change, or scale.

A focused 90-day Phase Two pilot

Start with a small set of priorities, build the complete path, and scale only what the evidence supports.

Launch and activate

- ◆ Start Ad Grants work if NKCDC is eligible and approved.
- ◆ Activate outreach, social, email, SMS, and partners.
- ◆ Produce the first workshop, webinar, or expert content.

03 MONTH 3

Optimize and scale
