

Google Business Profile Report

June 2026

Quarter 2 was a very strong period for Onsite Concrete and Landscape's Google Business Profile, with steady growth building month over month. This progress reflects the ongoing local SEO strategy we've been implementing, including regular profile optimization, photo updates, consistent posting, review generation, review responses, and keeping the profile refreshed with keyword-rich content.

June was the strongest month yet for Google Business Profile analytics, which is great to see. The profile generated 1 call and 6 website clicks, showing that people are not only finding the business organically on Google, but also taking the next step in the sales funnel. This kind of organic engagement is valuable because it comes directly from ongoing optimization and profile management. Overall, performance is trending in the right direction, and we'll continue building on this momentum to improve visibility, engagement, and lead opportunities.
